Visually Impaired Persons and Persons with Print Disabilities

Marrakech, June 17 to 28, 2013

DRAFT TEXT OF AN INTERNATIONAL TREATY ON LIMITATIONS AND EXCEPTIONS FOR VISUALLY IMPAIRED PERSONS/PERSONS WITH PRINT DISABILITIES

INFORMAL CONSOLIDATION PREPARED BY SECRETARIAT, June 25, 2013, 10:00am

Preamble

The Contracting Parties,

(First)

Recalling the principles of non-discrimination, equal opportunity, accessibility, and full and effective participation and inclusion in society, proclaimed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities,

(Second)

Mindful of the challenges that are prejudicial to the complete development of persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities, which limits their freedom of expression including the freedom to seek, receive and impart information and ideas of all kinds on an equal basis with others, including through all forms of communication of their choice, their enjoyment of the right to education, and the opportunity to conduct research,

(Third)

Emphasizing the importance of copyright protection as an incentive and reward for literary and artistic creations and enhancing opportunities for everyone including persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share scientific progress and its benefits,

(Fourth)

Aware of the barriers of persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities to access published works in achieving equal opportunities in society, and the need to both expand the number of works in accessible formats and to improve the circulation of such works,

(Fifth)

Taking into account that the majority of persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities live in developing and least-developed countries,

(Sixth)

Recognizing that despite the differences in national copyright laws, the positive impact of new information and communication technologies on the lives of persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities may be reinforced by an enhanced legal framework at the international level,

(Seventh)

Recognizing that many Member States have established exceptions and limitations in their national copyright laws for persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities, yet there is a continuing shortage of available works in accessible format copies for such persons, and that considerable resources are required for their effort of making works accessible to these persons, and that the lack of possibilities of cross-border exchange of accessible format copies has necessitated duplication of these efforts,

(Eighth)

Recognizing both the [preference for the rightholders to make] [importance of rightholders' role in making] their works accessible to persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities and [the importance of] [the need for] appropriate exceptions and limitations to make works accessible to persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities, [including] [particularly] when the market is unable to provide such access,

(Ninth)

Recognizing also the need to maintain a balance between the effective protection of the rights of authors and the larger public interest, particularly education, research and access to information, and that such a balance must facilitate effective and timely access to works for the benefit of persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities,

(Tenth)

Reaffirming the obligations of Contracting Parties under the existing international treaties on the protection of copyright and the importance and flexibility of the three-step test for limitations and exceptions established in Article 9(2) of the Berne Convention and other international instruments,

(Eleventh)

Recalling the importance of the Development Agenda recommendations, adopted in 2007 by the General Assembly of the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), which aim to ensure that development considerations form an integral part of the Organization's work,

(Twelfth)

Recognizing the importance of the international copyright system and desiring to harmonize exceptions and limitations with a view to facilitating access to and use of works by persons with visual impairments or persons with other print disabilities.

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1*Relation to other Conventions and Treaties

The accessible format copy is used exclusively by beneficiary persons and it must respect the integrity of the original work, taking due consideration of the changes needed to make the work accessible in the alternative format and of the accessibility needs of the beneficiary persons.

<sup>3</sup> Agreed statement concerning Article [...]: Nothing in this language implies that “cannot be improved” requires the use of all possible medical diagnostic procedures and treatments.

(B) Contracting Parties may also provide an exception for the right of public performance [and the right of translation<sup>4</sup>] to facilitate access to the work for beneficiary persons as defined herein.

Option (1): no provision.

- Mexico's Agreed Statement: It is understood that the [limitation and exception to the right of translation] right of translation refers to the translation made at the request of an Authorized Entity [or otherwise] from the work to a national language or dialect of the country in question, as long as the work does not already exist in those languages in an accessible format.]
- USA Agreed Statement Language: [It is understood that an Authorized Entity ordinarily has no need to translate into a language when a translation in that language can be obtained commercially on reasonable terms.]

2. A Contracting Party may fulfill Article C (1) for all rights provided therein by providing an exception or limitation in its national copyright law such that:

(A) Authorized entities shall be permitted without the authorization of the copyright rights holder to make an accessible format copy of a work, obtain from another authorized entity a work in accessible format, and supply those copies to a beneficiary person by any means, including by non-commercial lending or by electronic communication by wire or wireless means, and undertake any intermediate steps to achieve those objectives, when all of the following conditions are met:

1. the authorized entity wishing to undertake said activity has lawful access to that work or a copy of that work;
2. the work is converted to an accessible format copy, which may include any means needed to navigate information in the accessible format, but does not introduce changes other than those needed to make the work accessible to the beneficiary person;

Any Contracting Party availing itself of this possibility shall so declare in a notification deposited with the Director General of WIPO at the time of ratification of, acceptance or accession to this Treaty or at any time thereafter.<sup>5</sup>

5. It shall be a matter for national law to determine whether exceptions or limitations referred to in this Article are subject to remuneration.

Article 5

(ARTICLE D)

Cross-Border Exchange of Accessible Format Copies

1. A Contracting Party shall provide that if an accessible format copy of a work is made under an exception or limitation or pursuant to operation of law, that accessible format copy may be distributed or made available to a beneficiary person or an authorized entity in another Contracting Party by an authorized entity.

2. A Contracting Party may fulfill Article D(1) by providing an exception or limitation in its national copyright law such that:

(A) Authorized entities shall be permitted without the authorization of the rightholder to distribute or make available for the exclusive use of beneficiary persons accessible format copies to an entity or organization in another Contracting Party that is an authorized entity.

[(B) Authorized entities shall be permitted, pursuant to Article A, to distribute or make available accessible format copies to a beneficiary person in another Contracting Party without the authorization of the rightholder.]

3.<sup>7</sup>

Option 1: No clause on commercial availability.

Option 2: [In special circumstances the flexibilities] [The flexibility] in Article [C(4)] shall apply mutatis mutandis to the distribution and making available of accessible format copies under Article [D] with the following additional conditions:

<sup>5</sup> [Agreed Statement on Article C(4): It is understood that this is without prejudice to the operation of Article D [and E].]

Agreed Statement on Article C(4) [and D(3)]: It is understood that a commercial availability requirement does not prejudice whether or not an exception or limitation under this Article is consistent with the three-step test.

<sup>6</sup> [Agreed statement to Article D(2): It is understood that to distribute or make available an accessible format copy directly to a person in another Contracting Party, an authorized entity, as provided in Article A, in accordance with the practices it establishes and follows, shall establish that that person is a beneficiary person. To that effect an authorized entity may request from that person pertinent information which supports his or her eligibility as a beneficiary person. Such pertinent information may include, inter alia, a medical certificate [or], a document issued by local authorities or institutions or registration as a beneficiary person with a local authorized entity.]

b) Nothing in this article shall imply or require that a Contracting Party imposes in its law or otherwise that an Authorized Entity that receives a request for an accessible format copy of a work has a duty to investigate whether the work in the particular accessible format cannot be obtained commercially under reasonable terms for beneficiary persons in that market.<sup>9<sup>10</sup></sup>

Option 3: Whenever an Authorized Entity in a Contracting Party/Member State requests a copy of an accessible format copy, such request shall constitute sufficient evidence that the work requested is not commercially available in the importing country for beneficiary persons.

(2) The distribution and making available of accessible format copies received by an Authorized Entity in a receiving contracting party pursuant to Article [D(1)] shall be limited to beneficiary persons in that receiving contracting party unless the contracting party is a Member of the WIPO Copyright Treaty or otherwise limits exceptions and limitations implementing this Treaty to the right of distribution and the right of making available to certain special cases which do not conflict with the normal exploitation of the work and do not unreasonably prejudice the legitimate interests of the right holder.

(3) Nothing in this agreement shall be used to address the issue of exhaustion of rights.<sup>11<sup>12</sup></sup>

Article 6 (ARTICLE E) Importation of Accessible Format Copies

<sup>15</sup> Agreed statement concerning Article [...]: It is understood that Article [J] does not imply mandatory registration for authorized entities nor does it constitute a precondition for authorized entities to engage in activities recognized under this Treaty; but it provides for a possibility for sharing information to facilitate the cross-border exchange of accessible format copies.

Nothing shall prevent parties from determining the appropriate method of implementing the provisions of this treaty within their own legal system and practice.

Contracting parties may fulfill their rights and obligations under this Treaty through, exceptions or limitations specifically for the benefit of beneficiary persons, other exceptions or limitations, or a combination thereof within their national legal system and practice. These may include judicial, administrative or regulatory determinations for the benefit of beneficiary persons as to fair practices, dealings or uses to meet their needs consistent with their rights and obligations under the Berne Convention, other International Treaties, and Article T.
