The Contracting States of this Legal Framework,

Having regard to the Agreement on the Creation of an African Regional Intellectual Property Organization (ARIPO) then known as the Industrial Property Organization for English-Speaking Africa, concluded in Lusaka (Zambia) on December 9, 1976, and in particular to its Article III(c), in accordance with which the objectives of the Organization include the establishment of such common services or organs as may be necessary or desirable for the coordination, harmonization and development of the intellectual property activities affecting its members;

Considering the advantages to be gained by the pooling of resources in respect of intellectual property administration;

Recognizing the need to have an effective sui generis system of intellectual property protection of new varieties that meets the requirements of Article 27.3 (b) of the Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPs) Agreement;

Recognizing that nationals, natural persons and legal entities of Member States shall enjoy equal treatment within the Contracting States provided that the said nationals, natural persons and legal entities comply with all conditions and formalities as set out in this Legal Framework;

Recognizing the need to provide growers and farmers with improved varieties of plants in order to ensure sustainable agricultural production;

Convinced that provision for plant breeders' rights in the region will allow farmers access to a wide range of improved varieties to contribute to the attainment of the regional goal of economic development and food security;

Aware that the member states require enhanced capacity building and need to develop effective national plant variety protection systems;

Convinced of the importance of providing an effective system for the protection of new varieties of plants with the aim of encouraging the development of new varieties of plants for the benefit of the society.

(4) (a) The provisions of paragraphs (1) to (3) shall also apply in relation to

(i) varieties which are essentially derived from the protected variety, where the protected variety is not itself an essentially derived variety,

(ii) varieties which are not clearly distinguishable in accordance with Article 8 from the protected variety and

(iii) varieties whose production requires the repeated use of the protected variety.

(b) For the purposes of subparagraph (a)(i), a variety shall be deemed to be essentially derived from another variety (“the initial variety”) when

(i) it is predominantly derived from the initial variety, or from a variety that is itself predominantly derived from the initial variety, while retaining the expression of the essential characteristics that result from the genotype or combination of genotypes of the initial variety,

(ii) it is clearly distinguishable from the initial variety and

(iii) except for the differences which result from the act of derivation, it conforms to the initial variety in the expression of the essential characteristics that result from the genotype or combination of genotypes of the initial variety.

(c) Essentially derived varieties may be obtained for example by the selection of a natural or induced mutant, or of a somaclonal variant, the selection of a variant individual from plants of the initial variety, backcrossing, or transformation by genetic engineering.

Article 22

Exceptions to the Breeder’s Right

(1) The breeder’s right shall not extend to

(i) acts done privately and for non-commercial purposes,

(iii) acts done for the purpose of breeding other varieties, and, except where the provisions of Article 21 (4) apply, acts referred to in Article 21(1) to (3) in respect of such other varieties.

“(2) Notwithstanding Article 21, for the list of agricultural crops and vegetables with a historical common practice of saving seed in the Contracting States specified by the Administrative Council of Plant Variety Protection which shall not include fruits, ornamentals, other vegetables or forest trees, the breeder’s right shall not extend to a farmer who, within reasonable limits and subject to the safeguarding of the legitimate interests of the holder of the breeder’s right, uses for propagating purposes, on his own holdings, the product of the harvest which he has obtained by planting on his own holdings, the protected variety or a variety covered by Article 21(4) (a) (i) or (ii).

(3) The conditions for the implementation of the provisions under paragraph (2), such as the different level of remuneration to be paid by small scale commercial farmers and large scale commercial farmers and the information to be provided by the farmer to the breeder, shall be stipulated in the implementing Regulations.”

Article 23 Exhaustion of the Breeder’s Right

(1) The breeder’s right shall not extend to acts concerning any material of the protected variety, or of a variety covered by the provisions of Article 21 (4), which has been sold or otherwise marketed by the breeder or with his consent in the territories of the Contracting States to the Legal Framework, or any material derived from the said material, unless such acts

- (i) involve further propagation of the variety in question or
- (ii) involve an export of material of the variety, which enables the propagation of the variety, into a country which does not protect varieties of the plant genus or species to which the variety belongs, except where the exported material is for final consumption purposes.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1), “material” means, in relation to a variety,

- (i) propagating material of any kind,
- (ii) harvested material, including entire plants and parts of plants, and
- (iii) any product made directly from the harvested material.

Article 24 Restrictions on the Exercise of the Breeder’s Right

Article 25 Measures Regulating Commerce

The breeder’s right is independent of any measure to regulate the production, certification and marketing of material of varieties or the importing or exporting of such material. In any case, such measures shall not affect the application of the provisions of this Legal Framework.

Article 26
Duration of the Breeder's Right

The breeder's right shall be granted for a period of Twenty years 20 from the date of the grant of the breeder's right. For trees and vines, the said period shall be Twenty-five years 25 from the said date.

CHAPTER VIII
VARIETY DENOMINATION

Article 27
Variety Denomination

(1) The variety shall be designated by a denomination which will be its generic designation. Subject to paragraph (4), of this Article no rights in the designation registered as the denomination of the variety shall hamper the free use of the denomination in connection with the variety, even after the expiration of the breeder's right.

(2) The denomination must enable the variety to be identified. It may not consist solely of figures except where this is an established practice for designating varieties. It must not be liable to mislead or to cause confusion concerning the characteristics, value or identity of the variety or the identity of the breeder. In particular, it must be different from every denomination which designates, in the territory of any Contracting State to this Legal Framework and any member of an intergovernmental organization providing an effective system of plant variety protection, an existing variety of the same plant species or of a closely related species.

(3) The denomination of the variety shall be submitted by the breeder to the ARIPO Office. If it is found that the denomination does not satisfy the requirements of paragraph (2), the ARIPO Office shall refuse to register it and shall require the breeder to propose another denomination within a prescribed period. The denomination shall be registered by the ARIPO Office at the same time as the breeder's right is granted.

(4) Prior rights of third persons shall not be affected. If, by reason of a prior right, the use of the denomination of a variety is forbidden to a person who, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (7), is obliged to use it, the ARIPO Office shall require the breeder to submit another denomination for the variety.

(5) A variety must be submitted to the Contracting States and to all members of an intergovernmental organization providing an effective system of plant variety protection under the same denomination. The ARIPO Office shall register the denomination so submitted, unless it considers the denomination unsuitable. In the latter case, it shall require the breeder to submit another denomination.

(6) The ARIPO Office shall ensure that the authorities of the Contracting States and of all members of an intergovernmental organization providing an effective system of plant variety protection are informed of matters concerning variety denominations, in particular the submission, registration and cancellation of denominations. Any authority may address its observations, if any, on the registration of a denomination to the ARIPO Office.

(7) Any person who offers for sale or markets propagating material of a variety protected within the territories of the Contracting States is obliged to use the denomination of that variety, even after the expiration of the breeder's right in that variety, except where, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (4), prior rights prevent such use.

(8) When a variety is offered for sale or marketed, it is permitted to associate a trademark, trade name or other similar indication with a registered variety denomination. If such an indication is so associated, the denomination must nevertheless be easily recognizable.

CHAPTER IX

NULLITY, CANCELLATION AND SURRENDER OF THE BREEDER'S RIGHT

Article 28

Nullity of the Breeder's Right

(1) The ARIPO Office shall declare the breeder's right null and void when it is established

(i) that the conditions laid down in Articles 7 or 8 were not complied with at the time of the grant of the breeder's right,

(ii) that, where the grant of the breeder's right has been essentially based upon information and documents furnished by the breeder, the conditions laid down in Articles 9 or 10 were not complied with at the time of the grant of the breeder's right, or

(iii) that the breeder's right has been granted to a person who is not entitled to it, unless it is transferred to the person who is so entitled.

(2) No breeder's right shall be declared null and void for reasons other than those referred to in paragraph (1).

Article 29

Cancellation of the Breeder's Right

(1) (a) The ARIPO Office [may] cancel the breeder's right if it is established that the conditions laid down in Articles 9 or 10 are no longer fulfilled.

(b) Furthermore, the breeder's right may be cancelled if, after being requested to do so and within the prescribed period,

(i) the breeder does not provide the ARIPO Office with the information, documents or material deemed necessary for verifying the maintenance of the variety,

(ii) the breeder fails to pay such fees as may be payable to keep his right in force, or

(iii) the breeder does not propose, where the denomination of the variety is cancelled after the grant of the right, another suitable denomination.

(2) No breeder's right shall be cancelled for reasons other than those referred to in paragraph (1).

Article 30
Surrender of the Breeder's Right

- (1) The breeder's right may be surrendered before expiry of its term when the holder of that right renounces it by written declaration addressed to the ARIPO Office.
- (2) The date of surrendering shall be that specified in the declaration or, if none is specified, the date on which the declaration is received by the ARIPO Office.
- (3) Upon surrender of the breeder's right, the certificate must be returned to the ARIPO Office.

CHAPTER X

LICENSES

Article 31
Licensing

The holder of a breeder's right may grant, to any person, an exclusive or a non-exclusive license relating to all or any of the rights provided for under this Legal Framework.
